Enterprise RTView

Enterprise RTView is a monitoring and visualization platform for the easy creation and deployment of highly customizable dashboards, analytics, alerts, and reports based on both realtime and historical data from virtually any source. Unlike business activity monitoring solutions, Enterprise RTView is more flexible, less intrusive, and doesn't force a preconceived notion of how information should be visualized. Enterprise RTView makes it both possible and practical for manufacturers to deliver meaningful realtime operational visibility solutions. In less than two months customers can address abnormalities in the supply chain before they become costly problems.
